

BUTTE GETS INTO TEXAS POLITICAL CAMPAIGN THREE SOLDIERS DIE IN TERRIFIC OIL BLAZE THOUSANDS GREET WORLD AIRMEN IN CHICAGO AT NOON

RESIGNATION IS FILED MONDAY WITH PRES. SPLAWN

(By United Press)
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 15.—Dr. George Butte will make the race for the republican governor of Texas. Doubt of his candidacy was dispelled here this morning when Dr. Butte filed his resignation as dean of the Law School with President Walter Splawn of the University, asking that it be effective immediately. The resignation will be accepted, according to a member of the Board of Regents, which is scheduled to meet here Tuesday.

Dr. George Butte, dean of the law school of the state university, reiterated his intention to make the race as republican candidate for governor against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson upon arrival here from New York Sunday.

Butte said he would file his resignation from the university faculty today and turn his attention to the coming campaign. He refused to discuss state politics and indicated there would be nothing forthcoming pending a meeting of state republican leaders here, probably the middle of the week.

LEAGUE RACES GETTING ALL GUMMED UP IN MAJORS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Two weeks away from the white, the major league pennant races are almost as badly gummed up as they were in 1904 when the Yankees won on the last day of the season and when the Cubs had to take an extra game to beat the Giants.

In the National League the Giants are holding a one game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers, with the Pittsburgh Pirates two games behind the Robins and three back of the champions.

The Washington Senators are still leading the race in the American League with a lead of one game over the Champion Yankees and with the Detroit Tigers four games behind the New Yorks.

Pittsburgh and Detroit are far from being out of the running but it seems more like the metropolitan teams will decide the race in the National League and the Washington and the Yankees will have to fight it out in the American League.

New York and Brooklyn may fight it out until the last day of the pennant race. They play all their remaining games on their home field against practically the same team. The Giants have 13 more games but the Dodgers have only 11 while Pittsburgh has 17 more to finish.

Caverly's Decision Is Attacked Sunday In Chicago Pulpits

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago ministers united in Sunday sermons attacking the life imprisonment sentences imposed on Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, millionaire youths who killed 14-year-old Bobby Franks. "It matters little what becomes of the two arch criminals, Loeb and Leopold, but it makes a great deal of difference to the millions who have watched these men escape the sword of justice because of their money and influence," declared the Rev. Martin Luther Thomas, pastor of the Deerfield Presbyterian church.

Rev. Thomas, who soon will move to San Pedro, Cal., suggested that Senate Attorney Robert E. Crowe should resign in protest to the sentence. "This extreme crime deserved the extreme penalty of the law," Dr. M. P. Beynton, pastor of the Woodlawn Baptist church, declared.

The Rev. Wm. J. McNamee, from the pulpit of St. Patrick's Catholic church, said he had long been a personal friend of John R. Caverly, who sentenced the boys to the state penitentiary at Joliet. He declared the sentence brought an end to personal animosities and friendships.

"We must condemn the false philosophy which Judge Caverly's decision advocates," Rev. McNamee said. "We must have real men on the bench, not weaklings. It is a sorry set back for our reputed democracy and a dastardly example to have."

Other ministers in practically every denomination expressed similar sentiments in the course of their sermons.

Cow And Hen Are Encouraged Now As Never Before

The efforts of The Mexia Daily News and Mexia Weekly Herald to encourage the 'Cow, sow and Hen' industry are attracting favorable comment on the part of citizens throughout this section.

To encourage the dairy industry of Limestone and Freestone county, it has been suggested that a cold storage plant and creamery be established here for the mutual benefit of counties and city.

In speaking on the subject, one enthusiast said Monday that a creamery for this place would mean that the producer of butter fat would have a market the whole year for his product and at a larger figure than he receives. It will also increase the herds of many farmers. According to the figures submitted in Sunday's Mexia Daily News, the cotton crop is going to be far short this year of what it was in 1923, and this fact but stresses the idea that the section must diversify more than ever in the immediate future.

Poultry, too, is being stressed more than ever at present. It has been well said that little does man realize the debt of gratitude he owes the hen. She is one of his benefactors. Hail, wind, droughts, flood may come, destroy crops, but the loyalty of the hen never weakens.

SPORTLIGHTS

The State Fair of Texas will be the scene of six big games this year. The playing field has been re-levelled and has a carpet of grass several inches thick. The seating capacity has also been increased to meet the expected crowds.

A. & M. will meet Sewanee at the fair grounds on the opening day which is Oct. 11th. This should be a good game, it is one of the two inter-sectional games to be played by a Southwestern Conference team.

Texas meets the Alligators from Florida at Austin Oct. 25th. Sewanee and Florida are the only teams that will cross the Mississippi to play a Southwestern team this season.

The Auburn Tigers were scheduled to meet Texas but on account of conflicting dates the game has been cancelled.

The Sewanee boys from the hills of Tennessee are coming to Texas with a strong aggregation this year. Although they lost practically all of their strongest men through graduation, they have much new material. Powers, one of the fastest men in the south will be missed from the Sewanee backfield.

'Country' Williamson, Captain of the Baylor Bears last season is now coaching the Mart High School football team. He is well known in Mexia, having played with the Gushers latter part of the season.

The opening game of the Mexia Black Cats will be with the strong team of 'Country' Williamson from Mart here on Oct. 3rd.

So far no game has been scheduled for the High School for Friday, Sept. 20th, but it is thought that one will be played on that day. The following day Westminster has the local park for their game with Wesley College.

Ned Seelye, home run king of the Gushers is back with his old squad at Greenville. He played in a game there Sunday against the Denison Katsys, and showed up to his true form. The Gushers will be lucky to get him back next baseball season.

The weather has moderated sufficiently for the Black Cats to get back into uniform again this afternoon. Both Westminster and the Cats have had to be content with skull practice for the past several days.

"Doc" Stewart is going to miss Oscar Eckhardt this year. The Austin boy attracted nation wide attention in football circles last season, he is believed by many to be one of the best players the University has ever had. Eckhardt will coach Canyon Normal this year.

Lane "Purdy" Tynes, who made the touchdown that won the game at Kyle Field Thanksgiving day last year will also be missed from the Longhorn squad. He has signed to coach at Del Rio High school.

Fred Marberry, former Gusher pitched part of the game Saturday for the Washington Senators, helping Walter Johnson win the game.

Fred Reeves will likely see the big Major League circuit show and give the glad hand to Marberry. J. K. Hughes did not say so, but its likely he will see the big series while on his belated summer vacation. Its surpative that he always waits to vacate until about this time of the year. If he keeps this up many years, Jess McLenahan, President of the Gushers will have to relinquish the cup, he holds for being the original fan.

Spectacles Among The Chinese.

Spectacles, says Chambers Journal, do not seem to have been known until about the year 1200, though, of course, men even in Roman times had discovered the use of convex and concave glasses to modify the light, and single lenses of concave and convex were used so far as the eye without the support of the hand.

The Chinese, who are usually supposed to have invented almost everything first, certainly derived their knowledge of spectacles from Europe, most probably from the Jews settled at Kallimeneia.

Many conflicting statements have been made in reference to the early history of spectacles developments in China.

The first certain mention of spectacles occurs in a work published about A. D. 1290, called "Lien Hsi-chuan." The passage runs as follows:

"When I was at the metropolis—that is, Peking—staying at the house of a certain military friend, I noticed that his father was in possession of an object presented to him by the late Emperor (d. 1290), having the appearance of two discs of mother-of-pearl, but very slender in bulk, with rings of gold amplified into a sort of handle.

"Old men, whose eyes are too dim to make out small writing, place this object in front of the two eyes, on which the size is magnified double or more.

It must be explained, with reference to the term Hu, that it had been many centuries applied indiscriminately to Syrians, Persians, Hindus and Tartars; the words "western region," however, exclude Tartars, and usually Hindus.

The only known use of the sound Mwan-la is in reference to the Jewish mollahs (mostly Persians), who in this year 1421 received some favors and presents at the Emperor's hands.

The learned Shanghai priest, Fr. Pierre Hoang (a native Chinese), thinks that the syllables ai-tai may represent the Portuguese lunetan, but, besides being rather far-fetched, this derivation does not take into consideration that the Portuguese had not yet for a century begun their trading career.

Besides, the first spectacles were made in Italy, and it is not impossible that Marco Polo had introduced them into China, or, more probably, one of the Italian archbishops of Peking. A later work, called "Rare Objects Explained," says that "the ai-tai are as big as money disks of transparent substance, and almost colorless; they are used as eye-mirrors, and derive their name from the idea (ai-tai means this) of light clouds shrouding the sun and moon. (The Chinese still call spectacles "eye-mirror")

A still later work, of a century and a half ago, called the "Collection of Omissions," says that "eye-mirrors" were considered extremely valuable objects during the preceding dynasty (1368-1643) and were either given as presents from the palace or were purchased from Hu traders, only the wealthy possessing means to procure them.

"Now, however, they are cheap all over China, having originally come from abroad, and all being made of glass. The contonese artisans, imitating their shape, now manufacture a much superior article out of crystal." I have often seen the Cantonese spectacle makers sawing lumps of crystal with the aid of water and emery at their shop doors. The crystal thus sawed has the color of sea water.

Hill County Test Nears 1300 Feet

J. Meers spent the week end here from Hubbard. He is drilling a test near that city in Hill County, just across the Limestone county line. It states that the well is now between 1200 and 1300 feet down and the drilling is held up pending the arrival of casing which was secured here and which will be sent to the locality as soon as the roads permit. The well is in the black belt of Hill county and hauling is difficult in wet seasons. He is very encouraged over the prospects and states that within about two weeks, the bit will penetrate depths at which the Woodbine sand is expected in that territory. The Austin chalk was entered at around 7 feet.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

"Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. If a cause is wrong, it is not to be overcome by wrong but by right."

Service First

"Service is the highest gift of the individual to his country," General Pershing declared on the eve of his retirement in and by the army. Imbued with that spirit, it is certain he will not be inactive now, although he is retired. No patriot ever retires his patriotism. Old age finds its influence far reaching and grander even than in superb, fighting th. His body may weaken. The ills of decades may scar and his physical make up. But the spirit of loyalty to homeland is stronger with the passing of years. Not to improve particularly on what the war time leader said but to enforce it effectively for home and individual purposes, after he died that "Service is the highest gift of the individual to his country," he could have gone a step further and declared that same is true in regard to the state, county, community and as it is to the nation. When more men and women in Mexia devote more time to service in the common weal, Mexia will be a place in which to live and rear future Americans.

The possibilities of the county are far from exhausted in an cultural way. There are numerous localities suitable for activities of the intelligent farmer, and the day is sure to come when available soil of this county will be higher priced than it now is. At the present rate of increase of population will not be very many years hence. Then, the young American farmer may follow the eyes of those advertising other cities. In the meantime, right here in Limestone county for agriculturalist, particularly the one who specializes along one more of the various lines for which the region is suited, are opportunities fascinating and abundant. There are, in fact, flattering prospects at our very doors.

It is probably true that one reason there are so many unemployed in some countries in Europe and not getting too close, in some countries in North America, is because there are few jobs without work attached.

Reviewing the Chinese revolution, one is impressed with the fact that the soldiers have sense enough to come in out of rain.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

(Jewish Holidays Press)

Today, September 28, 1924, at sunrise the Jewish New Year, the day of the world, according to traditional religious reckoning, Jewish era is a religious era, and Jewish lunar calendar, with every beginning with the new moon, the calendar now used only for fixing the feasts and fasts of the year, just as it does also the various movable feasts of the Christian church. For all ordinary uses the civil calendar is used as well as Christians.

The festival of the New Year is the month of Tishri, which is the seventh month of the year, due to Sabbath, the holy day, is the first day of the week, so the seventh month is a holy season. It is the New Year, the Day of the month—and the harvest of the month—and the harvest of the Feast of Tabernacles. The New Year was kept originally for a single day, but when the Jewish were exiled from Palestine and no longer make their observance of the new moon from the height of a second day was added in that they might be certain of the exact time of the new moon in Palestine. Liberal Jewish regulations have returned to the custom of a single day.

Jewish New Year differs from all New Year in being purely a religious festival. It is not the time of giving documents, neither is it a time of extravagant gaiety. It is a solemn prayer, as well as a day of fasting and feasting. Religious observances will be held Sunday night and morning in all synagogues the over, while the more conservative will hold them on Monday and Tuesday as well.

Biblical basis of the New Year is found in the twenty-third of Leviticus and the twenty-ninth chapter of Numbers. Here it is referred to as "The Day of the Blowing of Trumpets," a custom which is continued to the present time. It was a day of solemn assembly, a day on which special sacrifices were brought to the sanctuary.

In the modern synagogue, the day is observed by special prayers, including some very beautiful poetic compositions and unusually elaborate musical settings; by the reading of special portions from the Bible; and by the blowing of the ram's horn or Shofar. The Biblical readings are from the life of Abraham, especially the story of his sacrifice of Isaac, with its touching lesson of supreme faith.

The trumpet, blown only on this festival, is made of a ram's horn and has no impurities, being one of the most ancient and most primitive musical instruments in existence. It was the kind of horn used as a bugle

In the early days of Jewish people in the wilderness, and the custom has been preserved through all the centuries as a memorial of God's care for His righteous ones. The first ram's horn is said by tradition to have been made of the horn of the ram which Abraham sacrificed in place of his son Isaac.

The New Year festival has a profound religious meaning, bound up as it is with such a wealth of historic associations. It is known as the Day of Memorial, a day of memory and searching the heart. The pious Jew, in his house of worship, confesses before God his sins of the past year, and turns over a new leaf for the year to come. It is also known as the Day of Judgment, for this confession brings forgiveness on the Day of Atonement, ten days after; while the absence of true repentance brings punishment directly on the head of the sinner. These two aspects of religious thought are joined in all the services of the day, and their meaning is impressed still more deeply on the congregation by the annual notes of the Shofar, with their meaning of solemn reminder of the past and warning for the future.

The New Year and Atonement season is, in a way, a revival season among the Jews. It is the time when all Jews, orthodox and liberal alike, attend the synagogue, whatever may be their attitude through the year. At this time every house of worship is crowded with eager worshippers. In addition, in every large Jewish community temporary holiday services are organized to accommodate non-members, and leading congregations everywhere provide overflow services if needed.

The intense and universal celebration of this solemn day ushers in the new religious year of the Jewish calendar, and impresses anew on every worshiper the eternal lessons of faith and duty.

BONTE BLUE, VIRILE TYPE OF PHOTOPLAY LEADING MAN

Fashions seem to change in photoplay leading men. Probably for the reason that the public taste in anything changes quickly—and motion pictures must always keep pace with their public.

Within the past year or so Monte Blue, the young leading man who is so frequently seen in Warner Bros. Screen Classics, has risen to a position of enviable importance among motion picture players. His type is

SEPTEMBER GOLF CHAMPION TO BE LOCATED SOON

The September contest for the Patterson cup will be completed for in a series of events at the Mexia Country Club course, beginning Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock.

The trophy has been in the possession of Allen Hatch, August champion, for the past thirty days and the clash of golf sticks at the country club will decide whether he is to keep the handsome prize another thirty days or if someone else is a better man than Hatch on the golf links.

The cup was presented to the club by L. S. Patterson and is for a period to be the object for which the contestants are to strive until one of them has kept it three months at which time it becomes the permanent property of champion.

Sixteen Mexia golf birds with the highest records will enter the rivalry starting at three Tuesday afternoon. Elimination will continue each afternoon until the winner is determined. All members are invited to witness the events.

The first monthly event was a great success, members of the club aver, and it is thought that more interest than ever will be given the affair this week.

DAVIS READY FOR CALL TO MESS AT EASTWOOD FARMS

By FRASER EDWARDS.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

EASTWOOD FARMS, Bunceon, Mo., Sept. 15.—Hanger pants seized John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate as he snuffed a redolent odor that filled the air about the farm house of D. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for governor.

The small that made Davis think of dinner time was savory, he heaved a sigh, and it was in the air about the farm house of D. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for governor.

The small that made Davis think of dinner time was savory, he heaved a sigh, and it was in the air about the farm house of D. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for governor.

Long before the special train bearing Davis arrived from Kansas City, where he is to be Sunday, the roads leading to the Nelson farm six miles from the railroad were jammed with vehicles and the estimates of a 10,000 crowd were not exaggerated. Even airplanes were used by some of the visitors to reach the little central Missouri town.

Flood of the hour of celebrating the democratic candidate's election is out doing it all to play host. Democratic women thruout the county have been busy for days baking chocolate cakes and Jeff Davis pies and firing chickens to add to the spread. It is estimated 11,000 persons an hour can be fed at the long tables that have been erected.

The $100,000,000 credit given France by the J. P. Morgan bank when the franc was at its low ebb has been extended for another six months through the offices of Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in the Morgan bank. PIMENTOS GOMEZ CARRELLO

PARIS, Sept. 14.—So many Spaniards are spending their holidays in Paris that French cooks are bringing forth many good Spanish dishes.

For "Pimentos Gomez Carrello," remove the stems of twelve green peppers, all of about the same size. Remove the seeds, taking care not to injure the skin.

Blanch for three minutes in salt water. Drain and sponge in a linen cloth.

For the stuffing mix one-fifth pound of Indian rice, with four spoonfuls of tomato-pulp, cooked in oil, with a little onion and fine herbs, well seasoned. Stuff the peppers with this and arrange in a baking-dish. Baste well with oil, while baking in a moderate oven.

When ready to serve add a little vinegar or lemon-jice.

EDNA PARK PLAYERS OPEN SEASON IN MEXIA BILLED FOR A FIVE WEEK ENGAGEMENT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Tonight opens the show season in Mexia. The Edna Park Players, with their own stage crew and scenic artists have arrived in Mexia for a five week stay at the Opera House, after having just completed a very successful 58 week engagement at the Royal Theatre at San Antonio. Mr. P. W. Box is being congratulated on securing these high class artists for our city.

The company opens tonight with "Dawn o' the Mountains" which is a sincere little melodrama and no wishy-washy pathos. Have you ever been in the great mountains, say the mountains of California or Virginia? Have you ever been struck with their enormity, their terrible stillness, the lonesome days and the dark and quiet nights? This was the feeling that was striking terror into the heart of little Dawn in De Witt Newing's new drama, "Dawn o' the Mountains," which is to be started at the Opera House tonight Sept. 15th. Then into the life of Dawn comes Robert Blake, a young coal mining engineer of the East, and with this advent comes trouble, excitement, love and happiness. The coming of the young engineer precipitates the wrath of Dawn's mountain cousin who has hoped to make this girl his wife and thru his actions he re-opens a feud that has long lain quiet. There is action in plenty in "Dawn o' the Mountains," the sort of action that stock audiences like and the sort that make a play an unusual success.

Elliot W. Major, Davis is scheduled to speak about 10:30 o'clock.

WHEN BOY MURDERERS WERE GIVEN LIFE TERMS

Nathan Leopold, father of Nathan Leopold, Jr., bowed his head and kept his eyes half closed when he heard Judge John Caverly sentence his son and Richard Loeb to the Joliet prison for life for the murder of fourteen-year-old Bobby Francis. Foreman Leopold, elder brother of Nathan, sat by his side as the court read the decision. The Joliet prison, where the two boys will spend the rest of their lives, is shown in the other photograph.

TWO TEAGUE FIRES DO SMALL DAMAGE

The Teague Fire Department responded to two fire alarms, one of them was from the railroad shops of the T. & B. V., where it is reported some box cars were threatened with destruction. The blaze was exterminated before much damage was done, it is learned here. The other was to an old ice cream factory plant, where rags are said to have been discovered on fire.

A-oo-wah Lion Hunters Solve Marshall Mystery

MARSHALL, Texas, Sept. 15.—"A solitary form was seen To trace with stealthy pace the world."

Marshall's manhood heard the call of adventure Saturday when a raging, rampant lion was reported as having attacked several Harrison county citizens and as frightening them severely. The spirit of the pioneer, dormant after generations of sheltered living, flared up in more than one stout heart in answer to this challenge from the woods. Some one had to kill the thing.

"We made an expedition: We met an host and quelled it."

Marshall men did not flinch. The citizens do and dare spirit found expression in the form of a posse. There were no prancing chargers to mount, but more than one Don Quixote prepared, in more or less prosaic fashion, for the quest of the lion.

"They struggled hard to beat us, But we conquered them, and slew them."

No more do Marshall housewives hurry in their little ones as dusk draws near with admonitions to beware the lion. Marshall's smallest urchins walk boldly about the outskirts of the town, unafraid. Sweet slumber has returned to the pillows of little children who shivered in the night at visions of the man-eating monster which roamed Harrison county.

The venom spitting lion of report, however, turned out to be, in fact, a creature of extreme gentility. Ere the chase waxed warm, the hunters captured an old bear hide, a barrel, a bulb of high life and several highly amused boys. Asked for an explanation, the small boys revealed the fact that they had been frightened by a parade of the Ku Klux Klan in Marshall recently, and evolved this creation of the animal world to mete out poetic justice in the form of fright to their elders.

The crude semblance of a strange animal and the mental processes of the citizenry, aided and abetted by the powerful ally in a small town, Dame Rumor, were responsible for the creation of the mental juggernaut.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—"Mother, pin a rose on me, or a carnation, or any other flower that looks well with my complexion and costume. For fashion says to wear a flower this season."

The vogue for wearing flowers fresh ones, or the faded variety, is growing from day to day. The fashion has always been a pretty one and very popular since the days when the "Dame aux Camellias" made the little white flower famous. The grande couturiers are showing flowers on all their street costumes. There are brilliant carnations and pale white ones. Shaded carnations, in pink and gray tones, give a delightful touch and can scarcely be distinguished from the real garden variety. The very latest for wear in the street is a little bunch of roses of different colors—yellow, orange and scarlet—each bud quite small and tightly bound together with a fringe of rose leaves.

Flowers for evening gowns have probably never been so much worn. Roses, trailing with ostrich feathers, are seen on several of the newest fall models. Flowers and fur are very often combined. Orchids are always prized. Lehouvier puts them down the front of a charming robe de style, in blue shawl. And another designer makes white white roses give a cool effect to an evening gown, one large lily being fastened on the left shoulder, while another trails down the front of the frock, and a hanging tassel finishes the little cascade.

A novel idea is to wear an enormous velvet cape attached to the left wrist, with a ring of pearls which ends in a tassel. Flowers of this sort can be found in every color, and one has ample chance to match the exact shade of dress for every gown and every complexion.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—Casino gowns are in the foreground now, awaiting the new fashions for the coming winter.

Sometimes materials such as lace, Venetian velvet and brocade, are quite in order, but there are simpler ones in chiffon and silk meshing as well. Shaded chiffon is being shown by many chic designers. When this fabric is used the dress is kept as simple as possible, the beauty of the coloring being considered sufficient trimming.

Lace is being much worn at the casinos, not only for gowns but on evening wraps of fur or linen. One designer is showing a new lace, with a metal foundation, on which is an overland design of red velvet in bright colors. It is supposed to be an important winter fabric. The style lace is also being treated in this manner, with its pattern outlined in bright colors, or another design, so that one can scarcely tell which is lace and which a brilliant fantasy of the color palette run riot.

The hand-painted gown is the outstanding feature of Yeh, who is also using the unique idea of the artist, sewing the gown as one does a picture. One in gray velvet has hand-painted Russian folk-art designs, and another, in gray crepe, has a hand-painted design in gray and blue, with a strong effect of clouds in a Japanese landscape. The gown is straight in line, with a long, loose fall to one side.

A charming black gown at the Peninsula Casino one night came in from an actress who had been seen in the theatre. The gown at first looked like a black dress, but when it was opened from neck to hem and was bordered with heavy silver. Another was in pale pink fulgurant satin, slim and straight, with one long tassel, in the same colored silk, hanging from the left shoulder down the back. And still another was in deep fuchsia-colored crepe, embroidered in self-colored design, made with a long tunic edged with fur. A touch of fuchsia shows in pleated crepe at the sides.

Banded gowns promise to be as popular as ever for the casino. The Duchesse de Talleyrand is wearing a handsome black gown, embroidered in green beads, in a flowered design completely encircling the bodice. The center of each flower is embroidered in diamonds, and the skirt has a band of beaded flowers diagonally across the front. Chinese landscapes form the design on a charming frock from France. It is white crepe, with coral and green beads, tracing pretty pagodas, trailing vines and even birds and animals.

RAILS PREVENT CAR SKIDDING ON BRIDGES

Highway guard rails—roadside obstructions that prevent automobiles from skidding or plunging over curves, embankments or bridge approaches—are becoming more and more of a problem in Texas because of the steadily increased automobile traffic, and the Texas state highway commission, as well as road officials in various parts of the state, have been experimenting for some time in an attempt to make these "guards" more effective.

Although there are no definite figures available showing the percentage of highway accidents in Texas that are due to cars leaving the highway owing to recklessness or accident, the estimate of conservative authorities for the country as a whole is 40 per cent.

There probably isn't a man who has driven a car to any extent who hasn't known the sickly feeling of perfect helplessness that comes when wheels begin to skid on a dangerous bit of road, with the possibility of his plunging through a wooden rail and turning over in a ditch below. Putting on the brakes usually increases the danger. Often there is nothing to do but keep going and trust to luck and the railing.

Attempts have been made to strengthen guard railings for two or three years. Heavier planks have been used; cables are specified in some localities and stone walls are used elsewhere. However, few, if any wooden rails have ever been constructed strong enough to stop a plunging machine, while cables and stone walls produce a sudden impact that generally injures the machine and occupants.

An innovation in highway guards, designed to overcome these defects, has just been installed by Augustus McClosky, County Judge, and A. G. Pancoast, County Engineer of Bexar County at points along the state highway between San Antonio and Pearsall. It entirely discards the usual principle of guard rails and is comprised of a white ribbon two feet wide of heavy "link" wire, so fabricated as to stop a machine by the elasticity of its fabric, cushion fashion, and is, according to test, strong enough to stop the average sized machine going as high as 35 miles an hour. The rebound to the elastic fabric, when struck, simulates the idea of the aerial life not, according to W. H. Barnum of the Western Metal Mfg. Co., of Houston and El Paso, who sponsored the guard to the Bexar County Officials. The San Antonio-Pearsall installations total 300 feet in length, and replaces wooden rails. One installation guards a dangerous overhead crossing of the G. H. & S. A. Railroad. The devices are the initial ones in Texas.

W. T. Kyle, general manager of the Page Steel & Wire Co., inventor of the guard, following two years of experimenting in an effort to produce a "perfect buffer," functioning much like an automobile bumper, in fabricated wire. Engineers declare that the guard does little damage to machines that hit in between posts, and when a car strikes one of the posts sufficiently hard to break it the two posts on either side are sufficient to hold the car, giving an elastic effect under the most unfavorable conditions, and thus allowing the passenger a chance against serious injury. When a section between posts is hit sufficiently hard to sag it, the damaged section can be replaced by the removal of two perpendicular wires at either end of the sag. Fabrication and methods of attaching the device to the posts prevent damage on opposite sides of the posts.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1934 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

The Tunic Blouse a Dominant Mode

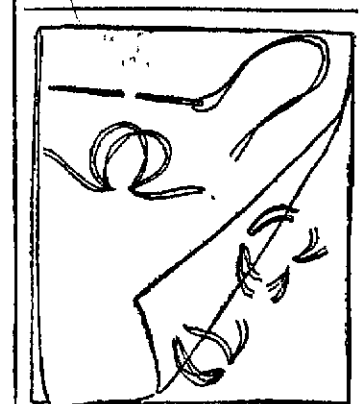

Simplicity of Trimming Stressed

In all of the Paris exhibitions the tunic blouse predominates and some of the smartest models are developed in black satin, simply trimmed with tucks and self-material. This is a noteworthy example of the Paris mode.

Designed so that it may be worn acceptably with almost any skirt, this straightline tunic blouse interprets the latest Paris style. It is trimmed with narrow tucked bands of its own material, put on with self-pipings. There are inserted pockets at either side of the front, which may be omitted, if preferred. Three yards of satin 36 inches wide are needed to reproduce this model. The "tailors' tacks" required in the construction of the blouse are illustrated, with directions for making. They are always put into the garment before it is cut out. Thread the needle with a double thread without a knot. Next, take a straight stitch through a perforation and through both thicknesses of the material. Draw the thread through, leaving an end an inch long, then place the needle again through the same perforation, as in the second step of the work. Draw thread through, leaving an inch loop, then cut an inch from the loop toward the needle. Proceed to the next perforation in the same way. After the blouse has been cut out and all pins removed, clip the threads between the folds of the material and remove the guide used for cutting.

The tunic is worn with separate skirts and as a part of the ensemble suit. Necklines show great variety. Some are finished with deep, side-closing collars, while others are collarless. Both short and three-quarter sleeves are featured.

BUTTE GETS INTO TEXAS POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

THREE SOLDIERS DIE IN TERRIFIC OIL BLAZE

THOUSANDS GREET WORLD AIRMEN IN CHICAGO AT NOON

RESIGNATION IS FILED MONDAY WITH PRES. SPLAWN

(By United Press)
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 15.—Dr. George Butte will make the race for the republican governor of Texas. Doubt of his candidacy was dispelled here this morning when Dr. Butte filed his resignation as dean of the Law School with President Walter Splawn of the University, asking that it be effective immediately. The resignation will be accepted, according to a member of the Board of Regents, which is scheduled to meet here Tuesday.

Dr. George Butte, dean of the law school of the state university, reiterated his intention to make the race as republican candidate for governor against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson upon arrival here from New York Sunday. Butte said he would file his resignation from the university faculty today and turn his attention to the coming campaign. He refused to discuss state politics and indicated there would be nothing forthcoming pending a meeting of state republican leaders here, probably the middle of the week.

LEAGUE RACES GETTING ALL GUMMED UP IN MAJORS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Two weeks away from the wire, the major league pennant races are almost as badly gummed up as they were in 1908 when the Tigers won on the last day of the season and when the Cubs had to take an extra game to beat the Giants.

In the National League the Giants are holding a one-game lead over the Brooklyn Robins with the Pittsburgh Pirates two games behind the Robins and three back of the champions. The Washington Senators are still setting the pace in the American League with a lead of one game over the Champion Yankees and with the Detroit Tigers four games behind the New Yorkers.

Pittsburgh and Detroit are far from being out of the running but it seems more like the metropolitan teams will settle the race in the National League and that Washington and the Yankees will have to fight it out in the American League. New York and Brooklyn may fight it out until the last day of the pennant race. They play all their remaining games on their home field against practically the same teams. The Giants have 13 more games but the Robins have only 11 while Pittsburgh has 37 more to finish.

Caverly's Decision Is Attacked Sunday In Chicago Pulpits

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago ministers united in Sunday sermons attacking the life imprisonment sentences imposed on Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, millionaire youths who killed 14-year-old Bobby Franks.

"It matters little what becomes of the two arch criminals, Loeb and Leopold, but it makes a great deal of difference to the millions who have watched these men escape the sword of justice because of their money and influence," declared the Rev. Martin Luther Thomas, pastor of the Deerfield Presbyterian church. Rev. Thomas, who soon will move to San Pedro, Cal., suggested that State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe should resign in protest to the sentence.

"This extreme crime deserved the extreme penalty of the law," Dr. M. P. Beynton, pastor of the Woodlawn Baptist church, declared.

The Rev. Wm. J. McNamee, from the pulpit of St. Patrick's Catholic church, said he had long been a personal friend of John R. Caverly, who sentenced the boys to the state penitentiary at Joliet. He declared the sentence brought an end to personalities and friendships.

"We must condemn the false philosophy which Judge Caverly's decision advocates," Rev. McNamee said, "we must have real men on the bench, not weaklings. It is a sorry set back for our reputed democracy and a dastardly example to have."

Other ministers in practically every denomination expressed similar sentiments in the course of their sermons.

Albert, State Adjutant of the Legion, has just received citation naming him for "distinguished and exceptional action" in the World War May 27 and 28, 1918. Through the error of a clerk in the War Department the citation sent to France, came back to the United States and finally reached Lester R. Albert's home in Shenandoah, Penn. Albert didn't know what was all about until he saw a photograph of the Idaho man with the same name, except for the middle initial, in the Legion Weekly, and sent it on to him.

For the first time in sixty centuries there is to be in Turkey a statue glorifying the human figure. Mourbil Kemal Bay, representative of Kemal Pasha, is in the United States to negotiate with Gutzon Borglum, noted sculptor, for its erection. Kemal Pasha, mounted, will surmount the figure. Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden, of Sands Point, on Long Island, N. Y., was entertaining the Prince of Wales when burglars ransacked her home and made away with several hundred thousands of dollars in jewels. Clarence Darrow, defender of internationally known criminals, says he will retire, now that he has won his biggest fight—that for life imprisonment of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb at Chicago for the murder of Bobby Franks. President Coolidge's cobbler, purveyor of much political knowledge, will have a try at it himself, since he has won the Republican nomination for the Legislature from his district in Northampton, Mass.

HIGH SCHOOL BLACK CATS 1924 SCHEDULE

In the Mexia Black Cat football schedule printed in Sunday's issue of the Mexia Daily News, there was an error in the game of Oct. 24. Instead of being Mexia vs Mexia as was printed, it is Kosce vs Mexia to be played at Mexia.

The schedule is as follows:

Mexia vs Marlin at Marlin, at Marlin Oct. 17.

Cow And Hen Are Encouraged Now As Never Before

The efforts of The Mexia Daily News and Mexia Weekly Herald to encourage the "Cow, sow and Hen" industry are attracting favorable comment on the part of citizens throughout this section.

To encourage the dairy industry of Limestone and Freestone county, it has been suggested that a cold storage plant and creamery be established here for the mutual benefit of counties and city.

In speaking on the subject, one enthusiast said Monday that a creamery for this place would mean that the producer of butter fat would have a market the whole year for his product and at a larger figure than he receives. It will also increase the herds of many farmers. According to the figures submitted in Sunday's Mexia Daily News, the cotton crop is going to be far short this year of what it was in 1923, and this fact but stresses the idea that the section must diversify more than ever in the immediate future.

Poultry, too, is being stressed more than ever at present. It has been well said that little does man realize the debt of gratitude he owes the hen. She is one of his benefactors. Hail, wind, droughts, flood may come, destroy crops, but the loyalty of the hen never weakens.

SPORTLIGHTS

The State Fair of Texas will be the scene of six big games this year. The playing field has been re-leveled and has a carpet of grass several inches thick. The seating capacity has also been increased to meet the expected crowds.

A. & M. will meet Sewanee at the Fair grounds on the opening day which is Oct. 11th. This should be a good game, it is one of the two inter-sectional games to be played by a Southwestern Conference team.

Texas meets the Alligators from Florida at Austin Oct 25th. Sewanee and Florida are the only teams that will cross the Mississippi to play a Southwestern team this season.

The Auburn Tigers were scheduled to meet Texas but on account of conflicting dates the game has been cancelled.

The Sewanee boys from the hills of Tennessee are coming to Texas with a strong aggregation this year. Although they lost practically all of their strongest men through graduation, they have much new material. Powers, one of the fastest men in the south will be missed from the Sewanee backfield.

"Country" Williamson, Captain of the Baylor Bears last season is now coaching the Mart High School football team. He is well known in Mexia, having played with the Gushers latter part of the season.

The opening game of the Mexia Black Cats will be with the strong team of "Country" Williamson from Mart here on Oct. 3rd.

So far no game has been scheduled for the High School for Friday, Sept. 20th, but it is thought that one will be played on that day. The following day Westminster has the local park for their game with Wesley College.

Ned Seeley, home run king of the Gushers is back with his old squad at Greenville. He played in a game there Sunday against the Denison Katys, and showed up to his true form. The Gushers will be lucky to get him back next baseball season.

The weather has moderated sufficiently for the Black Cats to get back into uniform again this afternoon. Both Westminster and the Cats have had to be content with skull practice for the past several days.

"Doc" Stewart is going to miss Oscar Eckhardt this year. The Austin boy attracted nation wide attention in football circles last season, he is believed by many to be one of the best players the University has ever had. Eckhardt will coach Canyon Normal this year.

Lane "Euddy" Tynes, who made the touchdown that won the game at Kyle Field Thanksgiving day last year will also be missed from the Longhorn squad. He has signed to coach at Del Rio high school.

Fred Reeves will likely see the big Major League circuit show and give the glad hand to Marberry. J. K. Hughes did not say so, but its likely he will see the big series while on his related Summer vacation. Its suggestive that he always waits to vacate until about this time of the year. If he keeps this up many years, Jess McLendon, President of the Gushers will have to relinquish the cup he holds for being the original fan.

Spectacles Among The Chinese.

Spectacles, says Chambers Journal, do not seem to have been known until about the year 1300, though, of course, men even in Roman times had discovered the use of convex and concave glasses to modify the sight, and single lenses of some sort were rounded off so to fit in the eye without the support of the hand.

The Chinese, who are usually supposed to have invented almost everything first, certainly derived their knowledge of spectacles from Europe, most probably from the Jews settled at K'ailung-Fu.

Many conflicting statements have been made in reference to the early history of spectacle developments in China.

The first certain mention of spectacles occurs in a work published about A. D. 1490, called "Local Miscellanies." The passage runs as follows:

"When I was at the metropolis—that is, Peking,—staying at the house of a certain military friend, I noticed that his father was in possession of an object presented to him by the late Emperor (d. 1426), having the appearance of two discs of mother-of-pearl, but very slender in bulk, with rims of gold amplified into a sort of handle. "Old men, whose eyes are too dim to make out small writing, place this object in front of the two eyes, on which the size is magnified double or more.

It must be explained, with reference to the term Hu, that it had been many centuries applied indiscriminately to Syrians, Persians, Hindus and Tartars; the words "western region," however, exclude Tartars, and usually Hindus.

The only known use of the sound Alwan-la is in reference to the Jewish mollahs (mostly Persians), who in this year 1421 received some favors and presents at the Emperor's hands. The learned Shanghai priest, Fr. Pierre Hoang (a native Chinese), thinks that the syllables ai-tai may represent the Portuguese luneta, but, besides being rather far-fetched, this derivation does not take into consideration that Marco Polo had introduced them into China, or, more probably, one of the Italian archbishops of Peking.

A later work, called "Rare Objects Explained," says that "the ai-tai are as big as money disks of transparent substance, and almost colorless; they are used as eye-mirrors, and derive their name from the idea (ai-tai means this) of light clouds shrouding the sun and moon. (The Chinese still call spectacles "eye-mirrors")

A still later work, of a century and a half ago, called the "Collection of Omissions," says that "eye-mirrors" were considered extremely valuable objects during the preceding dynasty (1368-1643) and were either given as presents from the palace or were purchased from Hu traders, only the wealthy possessing means to procure them.

"Now, however, they are cheap all over China, having originally come from abroad, and all being made of glass. The Chinese artisans, imitating their shape, now manufacture a much superior article out of crystal." I have often seen the Chinese spectacle makers sawing lumps of crystal with the aid of water and emery at their shop doors. The crystal thus sawed has the color of sea water.

THE SCOREBOARD

(By United Press)

Yesterday's hero—Dazzy Vance, star Brooklyn pitcher, shut out the Reds 2 to 0 with four hits and fanned eighth. It was 14th straight victory and his 26th of the season. In the third inning he fanned the side or nine pitched balls and he struck out three in the sixth inning on ten pitched balls.

Barret's wild throw let in the only runs that the Yankees could get off Thurston and the White Sox won 5 to 2. It was Thurston's 20th victory. Good pitching by Ross, a rookies and Boone's homer with two on helped the Red Sox beat the Browns 10 to 0.

Manush hit a home run with two down and the bases filled and gave the Tigers a 5 to 2 victory over the Senators.

Hauser's error let in two runs in the first inning and the Indians beat the Athletics, 4 to 3.

Art Nehf held the Cardinals to six scattered hits and hit his fourth home run, the Giants winning, 8 to 2.

Hill County Test Nears 1300 Feet

J. Meers spent the week end here from Hubbard. He is drilling a test near that city in Hill County, just across the Limestone county line. It states that the well is now between 1200 and 1300 feet down and the drilling is held up pending the arrival of casing which was secured here and which will be sent to the location as soon as the roads permit. The well is in the black belt of Hill county and hauling is difficult in wet seasons. He is very encouraged over the prospects and states that within about two weeks, the bit will penetrate depths at which the Woodbine sand is expected in that territory. The Austin chalk was entered at around 700 feet.

"Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." If a cause is wrong, it is not to be overcome by wrong but by right.

Service First

"Service is the highest gift of the individual to his country," General Pershing declared on the eve of his retirement and by the army. Imbued with that spirit, it is certain he will not be inactive now, although he is retired. No patriot ever retires his patriotism. Old age finds its influence far reaching and grander even than in superb, fighting youth. His body may weaken. The ills of decades may scar and his physical make up, but the spirit of loyalty to homeland is stronger with the passing of years. Not to improve particularly on what the war time leader said but to enforce it effectively for home and individual purposes, after he died that "Service is the highest gift of the individual to his country," he could have gone a step further and declared that same is true in regard to the state, county, community and as it is to the nation. When more men and women in Mexia devote more time to service in the common weal, Mexia will better place in which to live and rear future Americans.

The possibilities of the county are far from exhausted in an cultural way. There are numerous localities suitable for activities of the intelligent farmer, and the day is sure to come when available soil of this county will be higher priced than it now is. At the present rate of increase of population will not be very many years hence. Then, the young American farmer may follow the eyes of those advertising other tries. In the meantime, right here in Limestone county for agriculturist, particularly the one who specializes along one of the various lines for which the region is suited, are opportunities fascinating and abundant. There are, in fact, flattering prospects at our very doors.

It is probably true that one reason there are so many unemployed in some countries in Europe and, not getting too deep, in some countries in North America, is because there are few jobs without work attached.

Reviewing the Chinese revolution, one is impressed with fact that the soldiers have sense enough to come in out of rain.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

(Jewish Holidays Press)

Monday, September 23, 1924, at sunrise the Jewish New Year, the anniversary of the world, according to traditional religious reckoning, Jewish era is a religious era, and Jewish lunar calendar, with every beginning with the new moon, religious calendar now used only for dating the feasts and fasts of the Jewish year, just as it does also the various movable feasts of the Christian church. For all ordinary uses the civil calendar is used as well as Christians.

The festival of the New Year is the month of Tishri, which is the seventh month of the year. Just a Sabbath, the holy day, is the first day of the week, so the seventh month is a holy season. It is the New Year, the Day of Atonement—the solemn fast of the month—and the harvest festival, the Feast of Tabernacles. The New Year was kept originally for a day, but when the Jewish people were exiled from Palestine and no longer make their observance of the new moon from the height of a second day was added in that they might be certain of the exact time of the new moon in Palestine. Liberal Jewish regulations have returned to the custom of a single day.

The Jewish New Year differs from the civil New Year in being purely a religious festival. It is not the time of extravagant gaiety. It is a solemn prayer, as well as a day of fasting and feasting. Religious services will be held Sunday night and Monday morning in all synagogues over, while the more conservative will hold them on Monday and Tuesday as well.

Biblical basis of the New Year is found in the twenty-third or of Leviticus and the twenty-in the early days of Jewish people in the wilderness, and the custom has been preserved through all the centuries as a memorial of God's care for His righteous ones. The first ram's horn is said by tradition to have been made of the horn of the ram which Abraham sacrificed in place of his son Isaac.

The New Year festival has a profound religious meaning, bound up as it is with such a wealth of historic associations. It is known as the Day of Memorial, a day of memory and searching the heart. The pious Jew, in his house of worship, confesses before God his sins of the past year, and turns over a new leaf for the year to come. It is also known as the Day of Judgment, for this confession brings forgiveness on the Day of Atonement, ten days after; while the absence of true repentance brings punishment directly on the head of the sinner. These two aspects of religious thought are joined in all the services of the day, and their meaning is impressed still more deeply on the congregation by the annual notes of the Shofar, with their meaning of solemn reminder of the past and warning for the future.

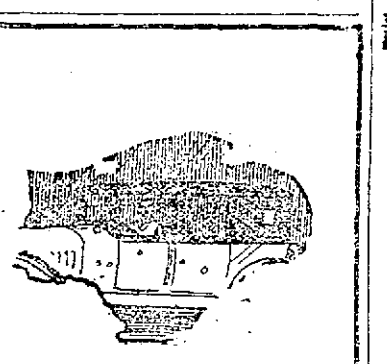

The New Year and Atonement season is, in a way, a revival season among the Jews. It is the time when all Jews, orthodox and liberal alike, attend the synagogues, whatever may be their attitude through the year. At this time every house of worship is crowded with eager worshippers. In addition, in every large Jewish community temporary holiday services are organized to accommodate non-members, and leading congregations everywhere provide overflow services if needed.

The intense and universal celebration of this solemn day ushers in the new religious year of the Jewish calendar, and impresses anew on every worshipper the eternal lessons of faith and duty.

SEPTEMBER GOLF CHAMPION TO BE LOCATED SOON

The September contest for the Patterson cup will be competed for in a series of events at the Mexia Country Club course, beginning Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock.

The trophy has been in the possession of Allen Hatch, August champion, for the past thirty days and the clash of golf sticks at the country club will decide whether he is to keep the handsome prize another thirty days or if someone else is a better man than Hatch on the golf links.

The cup was presented to the club by L. S. Patterson and is for a period to be the object for which the contestants are to strive until one of them has kept it three months at which time it becomes the permanent property of champion.

Sixteen Mexia golf birds with the highest records will enter the rivalry starting at three Tuesday afternoon. Elimination will continue each afternoon until the winner is determined.

All members are invited to witness the events.

The first monthly event was a great success, members of the club aver, and it is thought that more interest than ever will be given the affair this week.

DAVIS READY FOR CALL TO MESS AT EASTWOOD FARMS

By FRASER EDWARDS.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

EASTWOOD FARMS, Bunceton, Mo., Sept. 15.—Hunger pangs seized John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate as he sniffed a redolent odor that filled the air about the farm house of Dr. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for governor.

The smell that made Davis think of dinner time was savory barbecued beef—tons of it sizzling in three great pits of the grove where Missouri democracy was gathered to hear the party standard bearer and start the state campaign with a bang.

"I will be ready whenever the bell rings," said Davis when told by George A. Weyland, master of the feast that the beef had been roasting over the glowing hickory embers all night and would soon be fit for a king.

Long before the special train bearing Davis arrived from Kansas City, where he rested Sunday, the roads leading to the Nelson farm six miles from the railroad were jammed with vehicles and the estimates of a 40,000 crowd apparently were not exaggerated. Even airplanes were used by some of the visitors to reach the little central Missouri town.

Proud of the honor of entertaining the democratic candidate Bunceton is out doing itself to play host. Demo-

The $100,000,000 credit given France by the J. P. Morgan bank when the franc was at its low ebb has been extended for another six months through the offices of Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in the Morgan bank. EDNA PARK PLAYERS OPEN SEASON IN MEXIA BILLED FOR A FIVE WEEK ENGAGEMENT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Tonight opens the show season in Mexia. The Edna Park Players, with their own stage crew and scenic artists have arrived in Mexia for a five week stay at the Opera House, after having just completed a very successful 58 week engagement at the Royal Theatre at San Antonio. Mr. P. W. Box is being congratulated on securing these high class artists for our city.

The company opens tonight with "Dawn of the Mountains" which is a sincere little melodrama and no wishy-washy pathos. Have you ever been in the great mountains, say the mountains of California or Virginia? Have you ever been struck with their enormity, their terrible stillness, the lonesome days and the dark and quiet nights? This was the feeling that was striking terror into the heart of little Dawn in De Witt Newing's new drama, "Dawn of the Mountains," which is to be started at the Opera House tonight Sept. 15th. Then into the life of Dawn comes Robert Blake, a young coal mining engineer of the East, and with this advent comes trouble, excitement, love and happiness. The coming of the young engineer precipitates the wrath of Dawn's mountain cousin who has hoped to make this girl his wife and thru his actions he re-opens a feud that has long lain quiet. There is action in plenty in "Dawn of the Mountains," the sort of action that stock audiences like and the sort that make a play an unusual success.

cratic women throuth the county have been busy for days baking chocolate cakes and Jeff Davis pies and frying chickens to add to the spread. It is estimated 11,000 persons an hour can be fed at the long tables that have been erected.

Davis left his train at Syracuse and motored to the Nelson farm where he was met by Dr. Nelson and democratic state leaders, including former Governors Alexander M. Dockery and Elliot W. Major. Davis is scheduled to speak about 10:30 o'clock.

PIMENTOS GOMEZ CARRELLO

PARIS, Sept. 14.—So many Spaniards are spending their holidays in Paris that French cooks are bringing forth many good Spanish dishes.

For "Pimentos Gomez Carrello," remove the stems of twelve green peppers, all of about the same size. Remove the seeds, taking care not to injure the skin.

Blanch for three minutes in salt water. Drain and sponge in a linen cloth.

For the stuffing mix one-fifth pound of Indian rice, with four spoonfuls of tomato-pulp, cooked in oil, with a little onion and fine herbs, well seasoned. Stuff the peppers with this and arrange in a baking-dish. Baste well with oil, while baking in a moderate oven.

When ready to serve add a little vinegar or lemon-juice.

Where Shall we go this evening

FREQUENTLY you decide to spend the evening in town with some friend. The first part is easy. Dinner at a pleasant restaurant. But afterwards . . .

What will you do to carry on this business of having a good time?

Easy! Five cents. An evening paper. A glance at the advertisements. Suggestion—agreement, and you're off!

You didn't go around to the different theatres, to be driven to an unsatisfactory choice by fatigue and time. If it's worth while to consult the advertisements about amusements, how much more worth while must it be when it comes to the spending of the household money.

Read the advertisements. They place before you the full choice of the trustworthy goods in the market. They describe advantages, and give you full information before you have to stir out of your chair. Pursue for every article you buy the method you use when it comes to amusements.

The way to be sure of what you buy is to buy advertised goods.

Reading advertisements is an education in better buying.

Embroidery Trims This Little Model
The style notes accentuated in this dainty little frock are the close-fitting neck, trim short sleeves with turn back cuff and bloomers turned up in Turkish fashion. The dress may be carried out in voile, challis, crepe or radium silk.

Although this little frock has the appearance of being an expensive model, because of its trimmings, it may be copied at small expense. The model only calls for 2 1/2 yards of dotted Swiss of other material 30 inches wide, with 1/2 of a yard of plain fabric for the collar and cuffs. Of course the material of the collar depends upon that used for the dress. One is always safe, however, in selecting organza.

In the two figures shown, the details of the buttonholed scallops and the eyelet embroidery are given. First comes the buttonholed scallop, which must first be outlined and padded. Use small running stitches for the outline. Puffing action is best for the work. The padding is done with the uneven hasting stitch and the chain stitch. Take a short stitch underneath in order to give the raised appearance on the right side of the work. Pad the centers of the scallops heavier than the edges. Be sure to pad in the opposite direction to the way the stitches will fall in the finished work.

After each scallop has been outlined and padded, fasten the thread with a few running stitches at the left-hand end of the work along one of the scallops. Place the needle straight up and down over and back of the top line of the scallop. Hold the thread in the form of a loop with the thumb of the left hand. Bring the needle out through the loop and exactly under the bottom row of outline stitches. This work is repeated until the scallops are finished. Slant the stitches slightly so that they will come on a perfectly straight line on both the center and the top points of the scallop. To make the overcast eyelet pictured in Fig. II, first make small running stitches around the stamped eyelet. Oblong eyelets should be slashed through the center and shaped as the work progresses. Draw the thread quite tightly and do not let the stitches crowd one another. Make all stitches lie flat, close and even. The thread is fastened on the under side with two or three loop stitches when the overcasting is finished, to keep the work from pulling out. This makes a very effective trim-

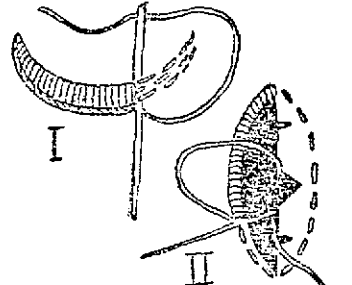

Fig. I.—Buttonholed scallop.

TWO TEAGUE FIRES DO SMALL DAMAGE

The Teague Fire Department responded to two fire alarms, one of them was from the railroad shops of the T. & B. V., where it is reported some box cars were threatened with destruction. The blaze was exterminated before much damage was done, it is learned here. The other was to an old ice cream factory plant, where rags are said to have been discovered on fire.

A-oo-wah 'Lion Hunters Solve Marshall Mystery

Marshall's manhood heard the call of adventure Saturday when a raging, rampant lion was reported as having attacked several Harrison county citizens and as frightening them severely. The spirit of the pioneer, dormant after generations of sheltered living, flared up in more than one stout heart in answer to this challenge from the woods. Some one had to kill the thing.

"We made an expedition: We met an host and quelled it." Marshall men did not flinch. The citizens' do and dare spirit found expression in the form of a posse. There were no prancing chargers to mount, but more than one Don Quixote prepared, in more or less prosaic fashion, for the quest of the lion.

"They struggled hard to beat us, But we conquered them, and slew them." No more do Marshall housewives hurry in their little ones as dusk draws near with admonitions to beware the lion. Marshall's smallest urchins walk boldly about the outskirts of the town, unafraid. Sweet slumber has returned to the pillows of little children who shivered in the night at visions of the man-eating monster which roamed Harrison county.

The venom spitting lion of report, however, turned out to be, in fact, a creature of extreme gentility. Ere the chase waxed warm, the huntsmen captured an old bear hide, a barrel, a bulb of high life and several highly amused boys. Asked for an explanation, the small boys revealed the fact that they had been frightened by a parade of the Ku Klux Klan in Marshall recently, and evolved this creation of the animal world to mete out poetic justice in the form of fright to their elders.

The crude semblance of a strange animal and the mental processes of the citizenry, aided and abetted by the powerful ally in a small town, Dame Rumor, were responsible for the creation of the mental juggernaut.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—"Mother, pin a rose on me, or a carnation, or any other flower that looks well with my complexion and costume. For Fashion says to wear a flower this season."

The vogue for wearing flowers fresh ones, or the fadeless variety, is growing from day to day. The fashion has always been a pretty one and very popular since the days when the "Dame aux Camélias" made the little white flower famous. The grande couturiers are showing flowers on all their street costumes. There are brilliant carnations and pale white ones. Shaded carnations, in pink and gray tones, give a delightful touch and can scarcely be distinguished from the real garden variety. The very latest for wear in the street is a little bunch of roses of different colors—yellow, orange and scarlet—each bud quite small and tightly bunched together with a frame of rose leaves.

Flowers for evening gowns have probably never been so much worn. Roses, trailing with ostrich feathers, are seen on several of the newest Fall modes. Flowers and fur are very often combined. Orchids are always prized. Lehouvier puts them down the front of a charming robe de style, in lilac shade. And another dressmaker makes white water lilies give a cool effect to an evening gown, one large lily being fastened on the left shoulder, while another trails down the front of the frock, and a hanging bud finishes the little cascade.

A novel idea is to wear an enormous velvet rose attached to the left wrist, with a string of pearls which ends in a tassel. Flowers of this sort can be found in every color, and one has ample chance to match the exact shade desired for every gown and every complexion.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Casino gowns are in the foreground now, awaiting the new fashions for the coming winter.

Sumptuous materials such as lace, Venetian velvet and brocades, are quite in order, but there are simpler ones in chiffon and silk mousseline as well. Shaded chiffon is being shown by many chic designers. When this fabric is used the dress is kept as simple as possible, the beauty of the coloring being considered sufficient trimming.

Lace is being much worn at the casinos, not only for gowns but for evening wraps of fur or lace. One designer is showing a new lace, with a metal foundation, on which is an overlaid design of cut velvet in bright colors. It promises to be an important winter fabric. Chantilly lace is also being treated in this manner, with its pattern outlined in bright colors, or another design overlaid, so that one can scarcely tell which is lace and which a brilliant fantasy of the color palette run riot.

The hand-painted gown is the outstanding feature of 1924, who is also using the unique idea of the artist, signing the gown as one does a picture. One in gray velvet has hand-painted Russian futurist designs, and another, in gray crepe roman, has pastel designs in gray and blue, with a giving an effect of clouds in a Japanese landscape. The dress is straight in line, with a cross-over fold to one hip.

A charming frock seen at the Deauville Casino one night came in lawn and silver lace made over lawn satin. The tunic at the back opened from neck to hem and was bordered with heavy silver. Another was in pale pink fulgurant satin, slim and straight, with one long tassel, in the same colored silk, hanging from the left shoulder down the back. And still another was in deep fuchsia-colored crepe, embroidered in self-colored design, made with a long tunic edged with fur. A touch of fuchsia-blue shows in pleated crepe at the sides.

Beaded gowns promise to be as popular as ever for the season. The Duchesse de Tallerrand is wearing a handsome black gown, embroidered in green beads, in a flowered design completely covering the bodice. The center of each flower is embroidered in diamond, and the skirt has a band of beaded flowers diagonally across the front. Chinese landscapes form the design on a charming frock from Francis. It is white crepe, with coral and green beads, tracing pretty pagodas along trailing vines and even birds and animals.

RAILS PREVENT CAR SKIDDING ON BRIDGES

Highway guard rails—roadside obstructions that prevent automobiles from skidding or plunging over curves, embankments or bridge approaches—are becoming more and more of a problem in Texas because of the steadily increased automobile traffic, and the Texas state highway commission, as well as road officials in various parts of the state, have been experimenting for some time in an attempt to make these "guards" more effective.

Although there are no definite figures available showing the percentage of highway accidents in Texas that are due to cars leaving the highway owing to recklessness or accident, the estimate of conservative authorities for the country as a whole is 40 per cent.

There probably isn't a man who has driven a car to any extent who hasn't known the sickly feeling of perfect helplessness that comes when wheels begin to skid on a dangerous bit of road, with the possibility of his plunging through a wooden rail and turning over in a ditch below. Putting on the brakes usually increases the danger. Often there is nothing to do but keep going and trust to luck and the railing.

Attempts have been made to strengthen guard railings for two or three years. Heavier planks have been used; cables are specified in some localities and stone walls are used elsewhere. However, few, if any wooden rails have ever been constructed strong enough to stop a plunging machine, while cables and stone walls produce a sudden impact that generally injures the machine and occupants.

An innovation in highway guards, designed to overcome these defects, has just been installed by Augustus McClosky, County Judge, and A. C. Panoast, County Engineer of Bexar County at points along the state highway between San Antonio and Pearsall. It entirely discards the usual principle of guard rails and is comprised of a white ribbon two feet wide of heavy "link" wire, so fabricated as to stop a machine by the elasticity of its fabric, cushion fashion, and is, according to tests, strong enough to stop the average sized machine going as high as 35 miles an hour. The rebound to the elastic fabric, when struck, simulates the idea of the aerial life not, according to W. H. Barnum of the Western Metal Mfg. Co., of Houston and El Paso, who sponsored the guard to the Bexar County Officials. The San Antonio-Pearsall installations total 300 feet in length, and replaces wooden rails. One installation guards a dangerous overhead crossing of the G. H. & S. A. Railroad. The devices are the initial ones in Texas.

W. T. Kyle, general manager of the Page Steel & Wire Co., invented the guard, following two years of experimenting in an effort to produce a "perfect bumper," functioning much like an automobile bumper, in fabricated wire. Engineers declare that the guard does little damage to machines that hit it between posts, and when a car strikes one of the posts sufficiently hard to break it, the two posts on either side are sufficient to hold the car, giving an elastic effect under the most unfavorable conditions, and thus allowing the passengers a chance against serious injury. When a section between posts is hit sufficiently hard to sag, the damaged section can be replaced by the removal of two perpendicular wires at either end of the sag. Fabrication and methods of attaching the device to the posts prevent damage on opposite sides of the posts.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1924 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

The Tunic Blouse a Dominant Mode

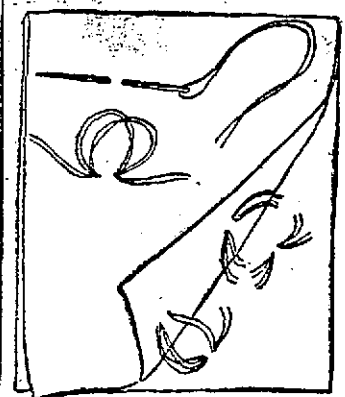

Simplicity of Trimming Stressed

In all of the Paris exhibitions the tunic blouse predominates and some of the smartest models are developed in black satin, simply trimmed with tucks and self-material. This is a noteworthy example of the Paris mode.

Designed so that it may be worn acceptably with almost any skirt, this straightline tunic blouse interprets the latest Paris style. It is trimmed with narrow tucked bands of its own material, put on with self-pipings. There are inserted pockets at either side of the front, which may be omitted, if preferred. Three yards of satin 36 inches wide are needed to reproduce this model. The tailors' tacks required in the construction of the blouse are illustrated, with directions for making. They are always put into the garment before it is cut out. Thread the needle with a double thread without a knot. Next, take a straight stitch through a perforation and through both thicknesses of the material. Draw the thread through leaving an end an inch long, then place the needle again through the same perforation, as in the second step of the work. Draw thread through, leaving an inch loop, then cut an inch from the loop toward the needle. Proceed to the next perforation in the same way. After the blouse has been cut out and all pins removed, clip the threads between the folds of the material and remove the guide used for cutting. The tunic is worn with separate skirts and as a part of the ensemble suit. Necklines show great variety. Some are finished with deep, side-closing collars, while others are collarless. Both short and three-quarter sleeves are featured.
